IN LOCAL LODGE ROOMS

W. O. W.
Live Oak Camp Woodmen of the World, have leased the Hibernian hall at Middle and Gold streets for a period of two years. They will take possession on August 6. By this time the hall will be entirely refitted, new floors put in and furnishings completely renewed. At the meeting on that date the Park City Camp will meet for reorganization.

WILL BE WORLD'S RECORD.
That the hammer throw of John J. Flanagan made at the Clan-na-Gael games at Savin Rock, Saturday, will stand as the accepted world's record of the A. A. A. there is no doubt, as certificates have been sent to the secretary of the association. The distance which was given out on Saturday as 134 feet 4 inches was measured off yesterday by the city engineer, the scaler of weights, and a representative of the Gaelic societies of New Haven, and found to be correct. All the requirements of the Amateur Athletic Union of America were complied with to the letter.

MRS. CRANE BEATEN WITH FRYING PAN.
Mrs. Helen Crane of Stratford, was treated last night at the Emergency hospital by Dr. Kiernan for a badly bruised and cut left hand. Mrs. Crane's baby was determined to cry yesterday, and her landlady, a Polish woman, came in from next door. She decided that Mrs. Crane was pinching the baby although this was not the case, and began a gentle assault with a frying pan.

PAYNE LEADS TARIFF REVOLT

AFTER APPARENT AGREEMENT OF CONFERRERS HE TELLS PRESIDENT TART HE WILL DEFEAT SENATE RATES.

Washington, July 28.—After an apparent agreement had been reached on the tariff bill in conference yesterday, members of the House went to the White House last night, headed by Chairman Payne of the Ways and Means committee to tell the President that they had votes enough in the House to defeat the Senate rates on lumber, and would so.

Besides Mr. Payne there were McCull, the only other conferee of the group; Tawney, Smith of Iowa, Perkins of New York, and others of South Dakota, Stevens of Minnesota, Esch of Wisconsin, and Crumpacker of Indiana. They pointed out to President Tart that free lumber had been defeated in the House by only five majority and that the House rate of $1 a thousand on rough lumber had been accepted overwhelmingly and would be insisted on. They pointed out, further, that the only compromise they would be willing to accept would be a flat reduction from the Senate rate of $1.50 on rough lumber.

The Senate differential on dressed lumber is already smaller than that fixed by the House, so that the House attitude is a decided stand for lower rates. The President heard all their arguments, but gave them no expression of opinion on intention. It is regarded as certain that this position on the part of the House will tend to further delay.

CONFERRERS ALMOST FINISH BILL. Work of the conferees was practically completed yesterday. The agreement on hides and leather, put the way for quick action and agreements were speedily reached.

The general trend of the agreements was contrary to the President's report. One apparently well-informed report from the committee had it that in the House he had been able to gain only free hides and free of duty on gloves and hosiery, which Speaker Cannon wanted, and that the Senate had been able to hold out on the duties on lumber, coal, iron, and print paper. One authority outlines the agreement as follows:

Oil—Free.
Hides—Free.
Coal—Forty-five cents a ton.
Print Paper—Three dollars and 50 c.

Iron Ore—Fifteen cents a ton.
Lumber—Rough, $1.50 a thousand feet; one side finished, $2; two sides finished, $2.50; to be reduced to $1.50, which may include tonguing and grooving, $2.62; four sides finished, $3.

Gloves—Four dollars per dozen pairs, not exceeding 14 inches in length, which is the standard length. Exceeding 14 inches, 35 cents per dozen is added for each inch. This standard does not apply to the Schaschen or cheap gloves, on which the Senate rate of $1.25 per dozen pairs is retained. The latter rate is held out against the Dingley rates, but the House rates accepted on the higher grades of gloves represent heavy increases over existing duties.

Hosiery—Valued at $1 or less per dozen pairs, 70 cents, as against the Senate and existing rate of 50 cents. On values up to $2, the rate is slightly in excess of existing duties, and a shading below the rates fixed by the House. On the highest grades the Senate and House rates were identical.

FINAL PLEA BY LITTAUER. Ex-Representative Littauer appeared in person in the conference committee room to urge his plea for the high House rates on gloves, for which Speaker Cannon has been fighting so insistently. Whether the figures given above are correct is not definitely known. One conference put it that the compromise had been effected on gloves and another summed up the results by saying that "Littauer had won his fight." These statements were taken from the House record. The Senate made on the House rate and that several of the classifications would undergo slight reductions. Mr. Littauer is said to realize that it was his last chance, and he worked like a Trojan. When he left the Senate office building his face was flushed and he was dripping with perspiration.

On print paper it is certain the House did not secure an even break with the Senate. The question finally settled down to $2.75 a ton and it was flatly asserted that the Senate rate of $4 would not be cut more than 50 cents, though Mr. Mann was quoted as believing a compromise as low as $3.35 would be effected. He announced two days ago that he would vote for no report carrying a rate higher than $3, and experience has generally shown Mr. Mann as little inclined to recede from any position he may assume.

TRICK ON DEMOCRATS. Cotton bagging, which was put on the free list in the closing days of the session in the Senate, has been restored to the dutiable list, though whether the full rate of 6-10 of a cent is retained or not is not known. Mr. Ardrich accepted an amendment offered by Mr. Bacon of Georgia putting the article on the free list simply to shut off a long speech by that Senator. It was announced by a prominent Republican that afternoon that the duty will be restored in conference. Exactly the same was declared in another Southern Democratic when the Dingley bill was under consideration.

CANNON PLANS HOUSE PROCEDURE. Speaker Cannon and other House managers had a conference about the special rule which is to be brought in to empower the House conferees to put duties on leather products below the rates fixed by the House bill. It has been urged that this rule should be passed before the conference report was brought in, but it was declared that separate consideration of it was likely to precipitate a fight that would get beyond the control of the leaders. The rule, therefore, will probably be brought in with the report itself. There seems to be no doubt of its adoption.

STAGG TO BRING PRISONER BACK

WHO ESCAPED FROM STATE PRISON AT WETHERSFIELD IN 1899 AND IS NOW DOING TIME IN JOLIET.

Deputy Sheriff Charles E. Stagg, will bring back from Joliet, Ill., Ferdinand Szanthe, who escaped from the state prison at Wethersfield, June 12, 1899, where he was serving a term of five years for a burglary committed in Fairfield. In Chicago, Szanthe committed a burglary and was arrested, convicted of his crime, and sent to Joliet. Governor Weeks issued, yesterday, a requisition for Szanthe. Frank Ruskowski escaped from Wethersfield with Szanthe. The men made dummy figures of themselves, which they placed in their coats. Thus evading the guard they made their way out of the prison.

PEACH BASKET DOOMED; TOQUE RUSSE THE THING

NEW HEADPIECE IS 18 INCHES TALL. IS MADE OF FUR AND COSTS $1,000. HELP! HELP!

The big hat with the broad, saw-edged brim must go. So must the peach basket headgear. Instead will come the tall hat, the Toque Russe or Russian toque, which is eighteen inches tall and made of fur.

The flat that dooms the present style of big hat for women was uttered by Charles G. Kurzman, milliner for the Four Hundred and others at No. 333 Fifth avenue, New York, when he landed yesterday from the Kronprinz Wilhelm.

He had just returned from Paris and said he spoke with authority. He did not attempt to say how a six-foot woman would manage with a hat that towered a foot and a half above her head.

"The Toque Russe is the future hat, and it is settled beyond all question," said Mr. Kurzman. "It is cold enough to wear (an overcoat in Paris for ten days before I left, and the Toque Russe, which was first worn by Empress in the Opera L'Imperatrice became all the go. Paris has spoken. It has approved the Toque Russe, and New York must follow. You may be sure these hats will be the coming fall and winter style."

"The value of the hat depends entirely upon the value of the fur. The hat looks not unlike a drum major's shako or busby, except that behind the fur of the hat descends to the nape of the neck and it also covers the ears. It is topped with a hussar's aigrette. It is really a wonderful creation, and in Paris these hats are now being sold for from $100 to $1,000. I saw one sold for $750."

"But the Frenchwomen are not so athletic as our girls and not nearly so tall as they. Wouldn't it worry some of our taller women to enter a car with these hats?"

"Well, perhaps," said Mr. Kurzman, smiling, as visions of tall women wearing toque russes came to him. "But they will find a way."

Senator Stone Strikes Negro

Baltimore, Md., July 28.—United States Senator William Joel Stone, of Missouri, created a scene on a Pennsylvania Railroad Express train from Philadelphia to Washington, when he attacked Lawrence J. Brown, a negro waiter in the dining car. On the arrival of the express at Union Station at fifteen minutes after seven o'clock last evening the conductor of the train ordered the Senator's arrest, and the negro rode together in the police patrol to the station house.

The Senator was returning to the capital from Washington, whither he had accompanied his daughter, a son-in-law, who had been visiting him. While the express was speeding south, the Senator went into the dining car to get dinner. As the train was crossing the State line of Delaware, the Senator complained that every one in the coach was waiting on before that he was the last one to be served, and after waiting twenty minutes, while he did not make himself known, he spoke to Brown about the delay. He declared the negro became surly and offensive, and when Brown persisted in it he rose and slapped the negro across the face with his open hand. The dining car was soon in an uproar, but further hostilities were prevented by the appearance of the conductor.

The Senator was arrested when the train reached Baltimore. He protested that he could not be taken into custody during a session of Congress, except for high treason or felony, and that the assault occurred in another State—Delaware. The Senator was finally released on his own recognizance for a hearing this afternoon.

VACANCY IN RURAL DELIVERY SERVICE

A vacancy has occurred in the rural delivery service in this district for the first time since the rural carriers have started their work. The resignation of C. E. Judson of rural route No. 2 was accepted by Postmaster Marigold yesterday. A civil service examination will be held August 21 in order to make a list of eligibles for the position. From this list the carrier will be selected. The salary is $900 a year, the carrier supplying his own horse and wagon. All residents of the community supplied by the local post office and between the ages of seventeen and fifty-five are eligible.
